FALL 1997

CONVOCATION

President Martin warmly welcomes this years entering freshmen class to Cumberland University and challenges them to make the most of their four years here at CU.

Dean Catherine Graham gives a moving and motivational speech to the class of 2001 and welcomes them to Cumberland University.

Student Government President Ms. Laura Lea welcomes the entering freshmen and asks them to get involved in Cumberland University student life.

NEW HISTORY

The University Commons is the latest edition to Cumberland University Student Housing. Dedicated in the fall of 1997, the Commons represents a new history at Cumberland University. Though its structure is representative and in keeping with the structure of other buildings on campus, the University Commons represents new and exciting trends in student housing. The Cumberland University Commons will add to the rich history of the Cumberland University community.

UNIVERSITY COMMONS

NEW TRADITION

Baird Chapel represents a long tradition at Cumberland University. This year Baird Chapel received a much needed face lift as it was renovated through grants obtained by the University.

Baird Chapel, brought back to life, represents the long standing and unwaivering tradition that represents Cumberland University. Baird Chapel is a combination of the old and new traditions of Cumberland University that faculty, staff, students and alumni have come to admire.

HOMECOMING 1997

Football Homecoming 1997 was a huge success with much student, faculty, staff, and alumni participation. The theme of Homecoming was: "If you can't run with the real bulldogs, stay off the field." Students participated in many events during Homecoming week. From "Midnight Madness" to the "Big Dawg on Campus" contest, the students had plenty to do all week. The parade and half time activities on Homecoming day topped off the spectacular and memorable week.

WORTH REMEMBERING

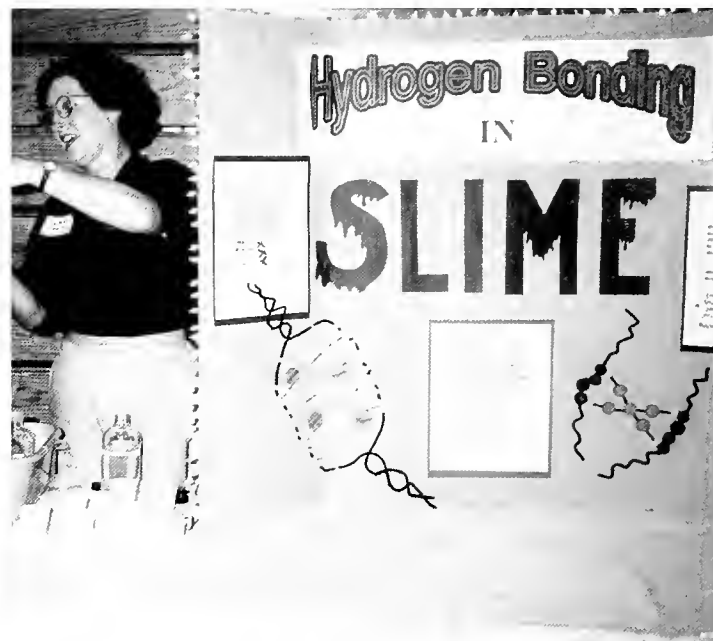

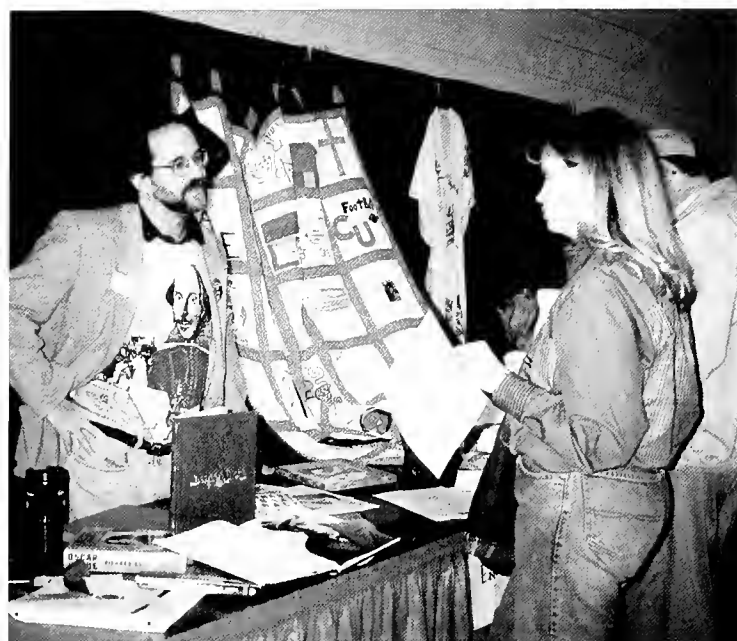

There were many people, places, and events that made this past year worth remembering. Our students made memories this year that will last a lifetime. From playing ping pong in the student center to enjoying the new gazebo on campus, students have much to remember about the 1997-1998 school year.

FALL ~PREVIEW~

CUMBERLAND UNIVERSITY BASKETBALL "COMING HOME" 1998!

The 1998 "Coming Home" week was full of excitement and entertainment. Many students enjoyed Bowling Night, the Lady Dawg Contest, the scavenger hunt, and Maroon and White day. Angie Baker won the title of "Lady Dawg" with Deneil Quinn coming in second place and Sonya Smith coming in third.

Many students, faculty, and staff enjoyed the half-time activities and the announcement of the "Coming Home King". Chris Leech, representing Sigma Alpha Epsilon, won the title. Clint Mullen, representing Kappa Sigma, came in second place with Jason Goolesby, representing Alpha Delta Chi, coming in third place.

~Dedication of the new Cumberland Commons~
